Lori sends a big thank-you...

After 12 years at the helm of Weitzner, a fabric and wall-covering firm, Lori Weitzner appreciates the value of personal connections. So she has partnered with Papyrus for her first collection of greeting cards. "We went back to our roots in embroidery, beading, and silver and gold leaf," she says. The 13 prototypes, created by hand, were then reproduced at mills around the world, using colored glass, silver beads, foil, and other textural materials.
